BCG - One of the Local Hosts Of The Greater Los Angeles Meta-Leadership Summit For Preparedness

Lee Goldstein hosted and welcomed participants at CDC Summit

On February 2-3, 2011 the Business Contingency Group was part of the local group hosting the Meta-Leadership Summit for Preparedness held in Los Angeles, CA. In addition to hosting the event, Lee Goldstein, President of Business Contingency Group welcomed participants to the event on behalf of the Private Sector.

“It is important to understand that businesses, government and nonprofits can no longer plan for disasters within their own silos. They will all need to work together in order to build robust response and continuity plans. An event like the Meta-Leadership Summit for Preparedness brings together leaders from all these areas and helps facilitate the relationships needed to deal with the increased impact and scope of today’s disasters. It was an honor to be able to help represent the private sector”, said Lee Goldstein.

The Meta-Leadership Summit for Preparedness is a unique national initiative to better prepare business, government and nonprofit leaders to work effectively together during a public health or safety crisis. Through the Summit, leaders learn skills needed for effective action during times of crisis and build organizational connections to strengthen community preparedness for responding to and recovering from emergencies. The Summits were launched by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Foundation, CDC, the National Preparedness Leadership Initiative – Harvard School of Public Health and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

The summit was a great success drawing a total of 167 participants.
